

Today's challenging and competitive global economy demands that organizations create and execute corporate strategies to maximize shareholder return, serve their customers, and grow the business. Project Management is a core capability required to effectively execute and operationalize these strategies.

The Executive Council of the PMI Chicagoland Chapter holds executive round tables, panel discussions, and other events to tackle industry challenges, evaluate opportunities, and collaborate on a variety of strategic and operational topics.

ABOUT THE COUNCIL

The PMI Chicagoland Executive Council brings together executives and senior leaders from various industries to share ideas, perspectives, and best practices for integrating project management into their business – operationally and strategically. Through facilitated roundtable discussions, we dig into challenging issues facing the business and project management communities today.

The Executive Council is supported by the Project Management Institute (PMI), a not-for-profit professional association with over 450,000 members worldwide, and a 40-year history of promoting project management as a critical business driver.

“Never doubt that a small group of thoughtful, committed people can change the world. Indeed, it is the only thing that ever has.”

— Margaret Mead

In a world of ever-accelerating change, executive leaders find themselves in a complicated world where both the stakes and risks are high. We invite you to join us in networking and collaborating with other high performing executives as we face the challenges of a competitive 21st century “always-on” global environment.
